Unikat was born on Vacík's farm in Roupov on February 3rd, 2011. Eng. Vacík is a head of the board of Association of Galloway Breeders and enthusiastic promoter of Galloway breed. Rooths of this breed are being found in southwest Scotland. We can find first records about this breed in documents from ancient times, when Rome Empire occupied Brittish Island, from where it spread all over the world. The abbreviation „RID“ in Unikat's name shows his colouring – riggit. It is an original and properly documented colouring with typical white line on the back line. The word „riggit“ is an scottish expression taken over probably from Scandinavian languages. The other utility traits correspond to Galloway breed: polled character, medium frame, slaughter quality, resistance and grazing ability.
